While his nine children were half fed, and not comfortably clothed, U. S. Walter of Newark was found sitting calmly on his front door step by State Attorney James Campbell and A. F. Stone of St. Johnsbury smoking a powerful T. D. pipe. The result was a session of court among the brush piles and unkempt yard and the man was sentenced to three months in the house of correction.

As A. G. Rice was pulling down an old barn in the rear of his home in Bellows Falls recently, he found under a floor five week-old skunks. They were kept during the day and at night a barrel trap was set for the mother and the young skunks were placed in it. The mother came for them and the trap was sprung, but the barrel fell on its side instead of remaining on end, so the whole family escaped.

Capt. Douglas J. Roberts of Burlington has been promoted to the rank of major in the medical department of the army. Major Roberts is one of the youngest majors in the service, being only 26 years old. General Pershing was recently treated at the base hospital in Paris and was under Major Roberts' care while there. Major Roberts graduated from the medical department of the University of Vermont three years ago.

The three-day convention of the northern New England conference of the Seventh Day Adventists closed in Rutland on Tuesday night. The camp meeting committee appointed was Pastor Bryant of Rutland, H. B. Tuer of Concord, F. S. Hartwell of Barre, M. A. Cram of Bridgewater, and J. Farnsworth of Washington, N. H. The meeting will be held Aug. 14-25 at some point on the Connecticut river, possibly at Brattleboro.

A four-year-old child, Dorothy May Cameron, who was kidnapped in Massachusetts three years ago, was restored to his mother in Burlington Thursday, where she had been cared for in the family of a Mrs. Tatro. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron separated and a Massachusetts court decreed that the mother should have the child and alimony, but the night after the decision was made known the father kidnapped the child and fled to Canada. He settled down there, but later removed to Vermont and died in Burlington last fall. His mother from North Adams, Mass., when threatened with a long jail sentence unless she told the whereabouts of the child, divulged it.
